CUBA: THE PEOPLE, THE GOVERNMENT, US POLICY AND THE GLOBAL COMMUNITY

Learn how a socialist country manages to provide social services, education, health care, food, housing, safety and access to the arts to its citizens in an equitable manner, under the pressure of the US blockade.

We will meet with activists and communities who will help us to explore the following questions:

- If the blockade was lifted, how would Cuba maintain its strong socialist state while joining the global community?
- How does Cuba fund its social programs such as free medical care and education?
- What's the election process in Cuba and how is the government structured?
- What's the daily life of Cuban people like in both an urban (Havana) and rural context (We'll get out of Havana for a few days to experience rural life. Some possible visits include: visiting a sugar cane or coffee bean plantation)?

Deadline: Applications and $250 deposit due: November 28, 2019. Remainder of balance ($2,050) due: January 28, 2020.

Cost: $2300.

*Price includes: All lodging, meals, interpretation and transportation within Cuba. You will also receive extensive reading material and activist tools.

*Price doesn't include: passport costs, international airfare, and personal incidentals.
